Marketplace Evangelism

In the parable of the wedding feast, the king's servants were sent to the streets, lanes, highways and hedges to invite guests. Jesus spoke in the open air and met people where they were. Paul spoke in the marketplace of Athens, as well as the synagogue.

But in modern evangelicalism, do we still feel that 'public' evangelism is something for 'the others' to do? For the few brave people with a special calling? This event will challenge us all to conquer our fear and get involved.
